THREE KEYS to CANCER CONTROL

RESEARCH

Dr. William S. Adams, as professor of medicine at the U.C.L.A. School of Medicine, treats leukemia patients. As a researcher, he is trying to learn ways in which the chemical machinery of leukemia patients has gone wrong. Reason: to explore new leads for leukemia control.

EDUCATION

Five years ago Mrs. Mae Edwards, of Pinellas County, Fla., thought up Save-A-Life parties. Neighbors are invited for coffee; early cancer detection is discussed; pamphlets are given out; guests are urged to give similar parties. In Pinellas County alone seven early cancers were discovered as a result of 150 Save-A-Life parties. Idea has caught on all over the U.S.

SERVICE

Mrs. Marjorie Shields, a volunteer for the ACS Illinois Division Transportation Corps, has transported over 1,000 cancer patients to and from Cook County Hospital during the past four years. Mother of eight, she takes her youngest with her on duty day.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Cancer Fund Drive for Hempstead County Will Begin Here on April 1

The annual American Cancer Society Crusade to save more lives through research, education and service will be launched in Hempstead county April 1.

Mrs. Dick Turnage, chairman, said that preparation for this year's crusade will concentrate on more effective training of volunteers to do the door-to-door bell ringing which is so important in raising funds and educating the public in ways to protect themselves from death from cancer.

Mrs. Turnage urged all those wishing to volunteer "in this vital struggle against possible death from cancer" to contact her home or by telephone—PRospect 7-3276 for information about training.

"We need volunteers and we must saturate the community with life-saving information if we are to do the job we are called upon to do. Because of the importance of the job to the community's welfare, I am sure the people will respond with enthusiasm out of a sense of duty and compassion for peoples' lives."

Mrs. Turnage said men and women everywhere are becoming increasingly aware of the urgency of the cancer problem and what they can do about it personally. Last year, she pointed out, more than 44,000 men and women were saved from cancer who would have died had they developed the disease ten years ago.

The American Cancer Society explains that it is now possible to save at least one out of two of those who develop cancer, but only one out of three is actually being saved. "This means some 90,000 persons will die of cancer this year simply because they did not get their doctors in time for early diagnosis and prompt treatment."

The American Cancer Society No. 1 goal in the April Crusade will be saving those lives that are lost unnecessarily and "that means getting everyone to a doctor in time for early detection and prompt treatment. Delay can be fatal. One's best protection against death from cancer is an annual health check-up. The annual checkup should be observed as regularly as a birthday."

Dry, Cool First Half This Week

Dry, cool weather is in store for Arkansas until mid-week. Rains that scattered over the state during the weekend gave way to a warm, sunny spring-like day Sunday and that pattern, the U.S. Weather Bureau says, will prevail through Tuesday.

Extradition Reject Frees Wanted Man

By BILL MERTENA

WARDEN, Wash. (AP)—For the first time in more than five years, Charles Will Cauthen is a free man today.

Washington Gov. Albert D. Rosellini Monday refused to extradite the 2-year-old Negro to Georgia where he is under death sentence for the murder of a white service station operator, Elijah M. Perkins, at Griffin, Ga.

Cauthen escaped from jail at Zebulon, Ga., on March 26, 1959, three days before he was to be executed and made his way to Warden, a small farming community in eastern Washington. He took an assumed name and worked for three years as a farm laborer, gaining the respect of his employer and others in Warden.

Last summer he was arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on a fugitive warrant. He has been fighting extradition ever since, aided by petitions and money from Warden citizens.

"We've kept his quarters waiting," said Clyde DeGraff, a part-time Warden cattleman and school teacher, for whom Cauthen worked.

Cauthen, still known in Warden by his assumed name of Bob Williams, returned here Monday night to take up his life where it was left off last summer.

"I have to live up to this. I have to live a life worth while, worthy of all the people who supported me," Cauthen said. DeGraff said those who supported Cauthen in his fight for freedom had hoped to hold a giant celebration. But they were holding off for a while.

Trying to consider what Bob's feelings are going to be. Everyone's real eager to do something, but they don't want it to be something that will make him feel uncomfortable in any way," DeGraff said.

In announcing that he had refused to honor the extradition request of Georgia Gov. Carl Sanders, Rosellini said, "It is my feeling that the best ends of justice are met by denying the application for his extradition and by allowing him to remain in this state." The governor, however, placed Cauthen under supervision of the State Parole Board.

The young Negro claimed throughout that he was innocent of the Georgia killing. A battery of attorneys volunteered legal aid. They claimed Cauthen's constitutional rights were violated in his one-day trial in his home state.

L.A. Brush Fires Out of Control

By ROBERT BURNETT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Howling winds which whipped three brush fires into a destructive holocaust subsided today, giving firemen hope of getting the upper hand over the blazes.

The winds were down to around 35 miles an hour early today, with a Weather Bureau forecast of a further drop.

Fire officials said that will permit use of planes dumping fire-retardant borate solution on the hot spots north of Los Angeles. Planes could not be used because the wind gusts as high as 100 m.h.

The multimillion-dollar fires lashed through expensive suburban residential areas bordering Glendale, Burbank, Pasadena and Newhall.

The fires scorched at least 10,000 acres in all.

Fire officials, rechecking the damage, said at least 23 homes were destroyed, and seven badly damaged.

No deaths were reported. Several firemen were injured fighting the blaze in the rugged canyons and ridges.

Thousands of homes were evacuated in areas near the two major blazes adjoining Burbank and Glendale, about 12 miles north of downtown Los Angeles. Oil fields were endangered by the other fire, near Newhall.

Fire officials pinned hopes for stamping out the blazes on behavior of the hot desert winds that have reached gusts up to 100 miles an hour since the fire started about 5:30 a.m. Monday. Sparks from power lines downed by the howling winds were blamed for starting several small fires which quickly joined and raced over the brush-covered slopes.

About 800 men and 675 pieces of fighting equipment battled the blazes but crews reported they could do little except try to save homes along the perimeter.

Hundreds of dwellings were saved as firemen and residents stopped the flames just short of their property.

The flames burned through the tinder dry country, billowing towers of smoke swirling southwestward over Los Angeles and beach communities. The turbulent winds prevented use of aircraft often used to drop fire-retarding borate solution.

Hempstead Literary Meet Begins

EDITOR'S NOTE: A page of pictures on the county meet's opening at Saratoga last Friday will appear in tomorrow's Star.

The annual Hempstead County Literary Meet for all rural schools in the county is now underway. Since the meet was such a success last year, the rural school superintendents and the county supervisor have undertaken the task of executing another literary meet.

This county-wide meet's purpose is to promote interest in the rural schools and to stress the need and purpose of such schools in the educational system. Work has been done, and is being continued, to raise the standards of these schools and to provide a more rounded curriculum to meet the needs of the rural student who will be entering a very demanding society of the future.

The meet has been streamlined in order to make it more efficient and to eliminate some of the obstacles of last year's meet. There are five divisions: Science, Art, Talent, Academic, and Speeches. There are many sub-divisions under each of the main divisions and the sub-divisions are worth a total of 19 points each. The point system is used to evaluate the school's ability in each of the division. A trophy will be given to the elementary school and to the high school with the highest number of points at the end of the county meet. First, second, and third place winners in each sub-division will be awarded certificates at the final program to be held at Blevins on April 17 at 7 p.m.

The schools participating in the county meet are: Guernsey, Palms, Washington, Spring Hill, Saratoga and Blevins. Saratoga played host to the first of the five divisions, the academic testing, held on March 13 at 7 p.m. There were approximately 100 students from the four rural high school in the county tested. The winners are: Typing I: 1st—Betty Pierce and Carol Fontaine, 2nd—Joan Butler and 3rd—Larry Tullis. Typing II: 1st—Donna Schultz, 2nd—Linda Blum and 3rd—Jessie Tullis and Jerry Ross. ## Trimble to Run for His 11th Term

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rep. James W. Trimble of Arkansas' 3rd District filed for an 11th term Monday, and promised to make an active campaign if he has opposition.

Trimble's announcement ended speculation that he might step down in favor of Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Faubus had been reported thinking of running for Trimble's House post if Trimble stepped down. Trimble suffered an attack of kidney stones last year, but Monday he told The Associated Press, "I haven't missed a roll call since I threw off that kidney ailment" some months ago.

Trimble said he has no understanding with Faubus on his future plans. "I'm running for a new term and I'll take them one at a time."

He was the first Arkansas congressman to file, although Reps. Oren Harris, Wilbur Mills and E. C. Gathings are expected to file before the ticket closes April 29.

Trimble has represented Northwest Arkansas for 20 years, and he is the junior member of the Arkansas delegation.

Congressional redistricting due to loss of two representatives added counties to the 3rd district, but left the designation the same.

Trimble maintains his residence in Berryville. He began his career as a teacher in the Texarkana, Ark., Junior High School. He was born in Osage in Carroll County.

He is a member of the House Rules Committee and has been one of the foremost backers of Arkansas River Development. He was instrumental in securing the Table Rock and Beaver dams and reservoirs in North Arkansas and South Missouri.

Sukarno told a conference of provincial, military and civil officials this was his answer to Malaysian Prime Minister Tun Ku Abdul Rahman's ordering of conscription March 10 and "his refusal to negotiate with me at the summit."

Sukarno added that he still wanted to negotiate with Rahman. The Malaysian prime minister has refused to agree to a summit meeting with Sukarno and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal until Sukarno withdraws guerrillas from Malaysian North Borneo. Malaysia has not put its conscription program into operation.

Fire Hits Lumber Mill in Clark Co.

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—Mill workers and residents of Manning fought a fire that destroyed more than a half-million feet of lumber Monday night—until firemen from neighboring towns arrived to give aid.

Manning has no fire department. The flames destroyed a planer mill and four railroad cars at the Sturgis Lumber Co.

The fire was controlled in about two hours with aid of firemen from Arkadelphia, Fordyce, Malvern and Sparkman. Sparkman, 10 miles south, is the nearest community to Manning. Arkadelphia is 14 miles to the northwest.

The Arkadelphia fire department said the flames started in the planer mill. John Sturgis, a co-owner of the mill, declined to estimate the loss. Firemen put out grass fires caused by the flames, preventing nearby residences from burning.

Anti-Poverty Plan to Find Opposition

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress trained a questioning eye today on President Johnson's anti-poverty program as it began an uncertain journey through the legislative mill.

Democratic reaction generally was favorable to the plan the President submitted Monday to pick up a number of previously considered proposals, add some new ones and wrap them up into a $962.5-million program aimed primarily at assistance to needy young Americans.

Republicans, wary of being tagged with opposition to any measures that would reduce poverty, nevertheless found little that was new in a program some of them regarded as aimed primarily at promoting Johnson's political chances in November.

Peace Corps chief Sargent Shriver, designated by the President as his personal chief of staff to direct "the war against poverty," was listed as the first witness as the House Labor Committee moved to consideration of the over-all presidential proposals.

LBJ to Go All Out on Civil Rights

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he'll do everything he can to win passage of the civil rights bill and predicts the Senate will approve it "in due time" in its present form.

The Senate has a duty to pass the measure as approved by the House, he told the nation in an interview broadcast and televised Sunday night.

"I know of nothing more important for this Congress to do" than to pass the measure, he said. "I think that when the Senate acts upon the civil rights bill, that we will have the best civil rights law that has been enacted in 100 years, and I think it will be a substantial and effective answer to our racial problems."

With this prodding from the White House, the Senate starts a second week of debate today on a motion to take up the bill. Leaders are hopeful of a vote within the next few days.

The key to action is held by Southern opponents, who want the bill routed to the Judiciary Committee for hearings.

The House plans to take up in midweek the first of the annual departmental appropriation bills — a measure carrying just under $1 billion for the Interior Department.

Also on its agenda is a multi-million-dollar bill to authorize funds for military construction projects in this country and abroad.

Extension for Tag on Cigarettes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Paul Dixon of the Federal Trade Commission today extended to April 15 the time for filing of hearing on the proposal tag cigarette packages with a health warning.

In a statement at the opening of hearing on the proposal, Dixon said the commission originally stated such views should be filed not later than March 2.

He gave no specific reason for the extension, but indicated that it was because the original call brought numerous responses.

Dixon also said: "Our concern here is whether, in light of the report of the advisory committee to the surgeon general of the Public Health Service on smoking and health, the public interest requires remedial action by the commission with respect to the labeling and advertising of cigarettes."

"If such remedial action is called for, it would appear to have a direct bearing on the entire cigarette industry; therefore, the commission has determined to approach the problem on an industrywide basis through its trade regulation rule proceedings."

The advisory committee told

Ward 4-B

The area of Ward 4 situated East to North Main Street from the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company right-of-way to East Avenue "D"; thence East, along East Avenue "D", to North Hazel Street; thence North, on North Hazel Street, to East Avenue "H"; thence East on East Avenue "H", to North Walker Street; thence North on North Walker Street to the boundary line of the City Limits of the City of Hope, Arkansas.

Due to the fact that the success of any Government depends largely on the qualifications and ability of the officials administering the affairs of such Government, such officials hold their office and position in the affairs of Government by virtue of vote cast for them by the qualified electors; and, in many instances, a majority of the electors know very little about the qualifications and ability of the candidates and necessarily are governed by hearsay, the Committee passed a resolution recommending that arrangements be made for a public speaking in each of the precincts in the County and that all candidates be invited and given an opportunity to meet the voters and discuss his candidacy with the voters of each precinct, and, inasmuch as there is such a large number of qualified electors in DeRoan Township that two speaking dates be fixed for the City of Hope-one at the beginning of the campaign and one the night before the election.

The surgeon general, said cigarette smoking is a health hazard and contributes "substantially to mortality from certain specific diseases and the overall death rate."

Chinese Airlift Cambodian Arms

PHNOM PENH Cambodia (AP) — Communist China delivered a shipment of military aid to Cambodia by air Sunday, but there was no information available on what it contained.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, denied that he would use the supplies for aggressive purposes.

The prince said "our enemies would already have struck out offensively against Cambodia" if China, the Soviet Union, France and Yugoslavia "had not hastened to help us militarily without conditions" after he rejected American aid.

MAN WANTS PROMOTION; MUST HAVE HIS YEARS

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: My company will soon appoint a new vice president. I am over 45 but look over 50. All the other candidates are younger. This appointment means everything to me: my wife's respect, my family's happiness, my financial security. How can I knock off a few years, and still be an honest man? —Pops.

Dear Pops: Start at the top. If you're getting gray, don't worry. Most people feel gray hair is glamorous and mature. Perhaps it's best at the temples, so you may want to darken the top part, and give the effect of being prematurely gray.

However, a crewcut is identified with youthfulness, and shorter hair might take away a few years. If you're turning bald, don't try to cover it up. There was a Harvard study some years ago that indicated that bald men were more virile than those with luxurious mane.

If you need glasses, wear them, and be comforted with the thought that the rims hide some of the wrinkles and bags. Tan faces are youthful. Extra boost with a sunlamp will keep your complexion healthy-looking.

The best way to fight wrinkles under your chin is to hold your head up. Bloodhound jowls are stretched tight if you keep your whiskers off your chest. This also gives you room to keep your chest out enough. A bent posture is one of the surest signs of age.

Lower on the frame, there is a tendency to expand fore and aft. Exercise and diet will fend off the beer-barrel look. Pained feet make you walk slowly and tentatively, like you are on sharp gravel. Get comfortable shoes with a style and flair, and you'll be youthful below the knee.

Remake your wardrobe. If you're smart, trousers should be slim. Coat lapels should be long and jacket short; the greater the distance between the bottom of your jacket and the floor the longer you legs will look. Choose a vertical design or a large plaid. Your collar should be a regular spread or tab and you should wear a narrow tie. Plain-toe elevator shoes are a good idea and so is the tapered crown hat.

If you're tall and slim, stay away from clearly defined vertical stripes. Try solid colors or tweeds, diagonals; accentuate the horizontal with a wide spread shirt collar and a moderately knotted tie. Jacket should fit rather loosely and be of medium length. Trousers ought to be cuffed to break up the long-legged appearance. As for the hat: low or medium crown, not too sharply tapered.

If you're average height and stout, wear smooth-finish fabrics, nothing bulky. If you want patterns, make them small and very subdued. The cut of your suit should be straight hanging and padded slightly at the shoulders to avoid looking tight. The shirt collar should be regular, the tie 56 inches long rather than the usual 52, and the hat a snap-brim with a full crown.

Husbands In City?

Dear Dr. Brothers: I am an attractive girl in my early twenties, and I've heard that girls who get jobs in the city are far more likely to find an eligible husband than if they stay in their home town. Do you have any facts on this? —Debbie

Dear Debbie: Not long ago so-

Troops Patrol Gabon Capital

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP) — Gabonese troops and steel-helmeted police deployed through African quarters of Libreville today in the face of threatened strikes and demonstrations against President Leon M'ba.

Despite leaflets and verbal strike orders the capital went to work as usual. There was no sign of tension in the heart of the city, where most European business is located.

Church Thrift Aids Circulation

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Nearly 3½ million pennies are back in circulation today.

More than 11 tons of coins collected by some 3,000 young people of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Georgia and East Tennessee were brought to the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank Monday.

They had been saved by the adventist youth in a three-month "two million penny" campaign to raise funds for a music building at the church's new Georgia Cumberland Academy at Calhoun, Ga.

Says Assassination Creates Revulsion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army believes the assassination of President Kennedy has created an American revulsion to guns and that this attitude is hurting its civilian marksmanship program.

The Army offers no statistics to back up its belief, but, in a general way, it has testified to Congress that public sentiment is turning away from the gun. The testimony was given last Jan. 29 and released today by the House Appropriations subcommittee on defense.

Bob Hope Heads Citation Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named comedian Bob Hope to succeed Henry Cabot Lodge.

Hope isn't going to take over Lodge's job as ambassador to South Viet Nam.

He is succeeding Lodge as a member of the Distinguished Civilian Service Awards Board, which recommends winners for the Medal of Freedom for distinguished service to the country in various fields.

Biologists queried 5,000 couples as to how and why they met. By far the greatest number of young men had married girls they met not in the city, but within a radius of 20 blocks in their home town. A third of this number married girls who lived within five blocks, and a sixth no farther than a block away. Another point they turned up: the older the eligible bachelor, the more likely he is to marry a girl whose home is very close to his, nearly next door.

Permanent Vs. Annual Registering

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The voter registration controversy became more muddled Saturday when two bills were proposed as compromises between permanent and annual registration.

One bill was offered by Jackson County Rep. Lonnie Etheridge and the other was proposed by Miller County Rep. Hayes McClerkin and Pulaski County Rep. B. D. (Doug) Brandon.

Both measures call for four-year registration periods and both name the county assessor as voter registrar.

All three legislators indicated their bills were intended as compromise measures which take the best features from permanent and annual voter registration systems proposed in bills by Pulaski County Rep. J. H. Cottrell and Benton County Rep. Hardy Croxton.

Cottrell wrote the annual registration bill which has been accepted by the Arkansas Legislative Council for consideration at a special session of the legislature March 24.

The Cottrell measure has been opposed by Croxton, who is in favor of a permanent registration system.

The compromise measures also are to be submitted during the special session.

The Brandon - McClerkin bill differs from the Etheridge bill in that it calls for the voter to register himself and does not call for designation of party affiliation.

Under the Etheridge proposal a voter could be registered by father, mother, husband or wife. It also calls for an optional party affiliation designation.

Both bills call for voter registration every four years. Under the Etheridge measure, voters would register between Jan. 1 and April 10 while the Brandon - McClerkin proposal sets registration between Jan. 1 and April 30.

Both bills permit the challenging of registration of a voter by the voter registrar or his assistant, but require the calling of a hearing on the challenge within ten days.

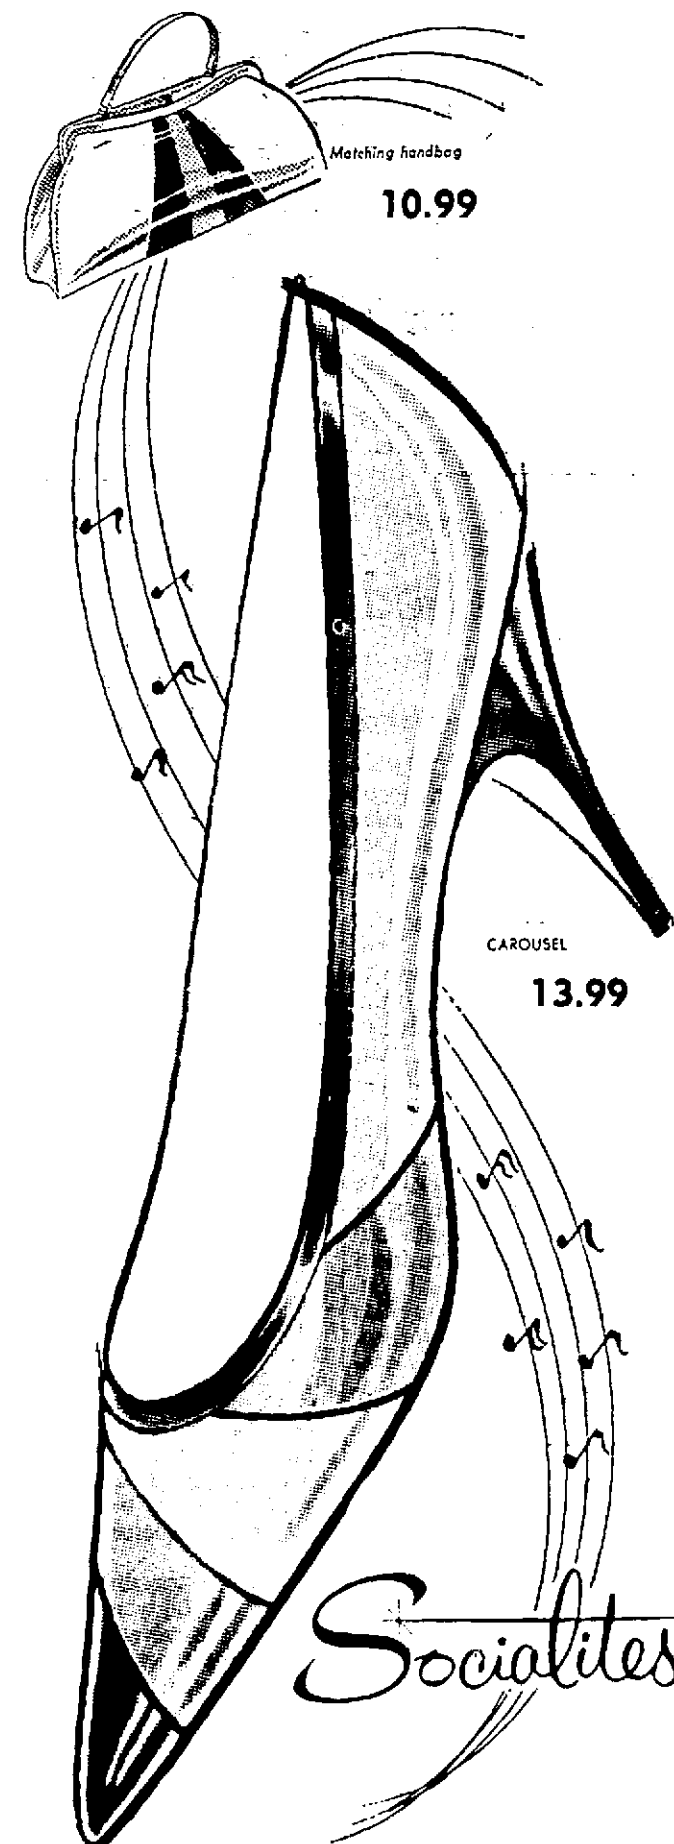

An adverse ruling at the hearing could be appealed to circuit court.

Both measures also provide for automatic purges from the voter lists of any person who dies, is convicted of a felony or moves from the area in which he registered.

They also contain special provisions for registration of voters for elections to be held before July 1, 1965 when both become effective.

Many Think Lodge Should Campaign

By G. MILTON KELL Y

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many Republicans on Capitol Hill say Henry Cabot Lodge ought to come home and campaign or else declare himself out of the GOP presidential race.

This was the predominant view of Republican senators as they appraised the ambassador's upset victory in Tuesday's New Hampshire presidential preference primary.

Lodge, who has said he is not a candidate because of foreign service regulations, won the New Hampshire preference on a write-in campaign while he was at his post in South Vietnam.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who stumped New Hampshire hard and finished second and third to Lodge, have challenged him to return and fight for the nomination.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, who finished a distant fifth, wondered out loud how long Lodge could "remain a member of the Johnson administration and also remain as President Johnson's most likely Republican opponent for the presidency."

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., one of Goldwater's campaign advisers, said, "Lodge should declare himself. He either should say he is not a candidate or resign his ambassadorship and come back and debate the issues."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a supporter of Mrs. Smith, said he figured the New Hampshire results place Lodge in a position where "he has got to fish or cut bait, before very long. A man can't support the administration and be running against it at the same time."

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., voiced a belief that Lodge will stay at his critical post in Saigon "as long as he feels he can do the job and the President wants him to remain."

Saltonstall made clear he will support Lodge if he becomes a candidate and expressed belief that a Lodge candidacy would be backed strongly by the Massachusetts delegation.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee and an avowed neutral at this point, said, "I would think that very soon Lodge will have to completely disassociate himself from any ambitions along this line, or declare that he does have these ambitions."

She was saved from serious injury when a fellow employee ripped off her flaming uniform. Mrs. Autry helped the home's owners, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Davis, and volunteers to remove patients from the building.

Some Facts of Life in Arkansas

By J. C. TILLMAN
Associated Press Writer

Signs that flash and billboards that lure vacationers to camping, fishing and other recreation spots are becoming more frequent in Arkansas.

They are indicative of the growing tourist industry in the state.

But the well-worn paths are not the extent of planned fun in Arkansas.

A survey by the University of Arkansas reveals active operation of 12 types of recreational enterprises on Arkansas farms.

Often little advertised and sometimes tucked away in nooks of the Ozarks, they offer a wide range of activity.

Categorically, the commercial facilities most prevalent in Arkansas are fishing lakes, riding stables, float fishing, guide services, private campgrounds, dude ranches, private hunting areas and reserves, summer camps, trout farms and accompanying services, boat rental and fish bait farms.

The enterprises are concentrated in as few as five and as many as 11 counties. Some, as caves, are grouped in tight areas; others, as riding camps, are spread over the state.

The vacationer, or weekend, can hunt wild or pen game, angle for native or pond-raised fish. He can rough it at a campsite or as little as 50 cents a night or plush it in a cabin for $42 a week.

He can float lazily down a stream for one or more days with guides, tackle, commissary boat and everything but the fish furnished. Or he can venture after he-man game, the wild hog—at $50 a throw.

The family can find a stocked fishing spot for $1 or less a day during a short outing or a dude ranch with pools, patios and pampering.

In Arkansas most of these facilities are not well known outside their immediate areas, the survey showed, primarily because they are home-owned and operated as an adjunct to farm income.

They don't make a big splash in the labor payrolls and are seasonal in nature. Yet they are an important part of the rural economy of Arkansas.

The university Experiment Station, in its bulletin, "Opportunities for Improving Rural Family Income Through Recreational Enterprises," brings out these figures:

The operations are designed to take advantage of natural resources.

A majority of the enterprises are located near cities of 10,000 to 50,000 population — about 40 per cent of them on paved roads.

About 1-3 provide for overnight guests, 40 per cent have eating facilities and three-fourths were established after 1950. Of these, 85 per cent have been operated continuously since establishment.

Seventy per cent of the operators are native Arkansans and 54 per cent have planned expansion. If more liberal credit terms were available, another 27 per cent would enlarge operations.

The average total income to operators ranged from $55 a year for small fishing lakes to $42,000 for private hunting preserves.

The average operation employed three — the women at a wage of 72.1 cents an hour for a 50.8-hour week and men 81.1 cents for nearly 59 hours. Since the last survey by the

Ground Too Fine by Tax Agents

ATLANTA (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has been treating poultry grit the same as crushed stone and that sticks in the craw of the Stone Mountain Grit Co.

The company claims the depreciation allowance for poultry grit—granite ground into tiny particles for feeding chickens—should be 15 per cent.

It says the IRS has been allowing it only the 5 per cent depreciation allowance for crushed stone—chunks of granite much larger than a chicken could swallow.

In a suit filed in U.S. District Court Monday, the company claimed that discrimination by the IRS has caused it to pay $288,671 in excess taxes from 1954 to 1961, making it that much harder to scratch out a profit.

Harris Hits Prohibition of Weapons

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., has attacked a bill now pending in the Senate which would amend the federal firearms act.

Harris told the Arkansas Wildlife Federation convention in El Dorado the second amendment of the constitution guarantees the right of every citizen to keep and bear arms.

"I intend to see that this right is safeguarded," he said.

The measure, Senate Bill 1975, was proposed by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn.

It would require registration of firearms on all interstate sales; would require purchasers to provide affidavits as to their age, any criminal record and other information and would require the selling firm to file a copy of the affidavit with law enforcement agencies.

Harris said he was convinced the bill, as it currently is framed, accomplishes little more than to placate sentimentalists.

Miss America of 1964, Donna Axum of El Dorado, was given an honorary membership and became the first woman member of the Federation.

The group approved a recommendation to the state Game and Fish Commission asking for changes in duck hunting regulations. It recommended a 45-day season, allowing only morning shooting and a four mallard limit.

Raymond Farris of Biscoe was re-elected president. One of the re-elected vice presidents was Hurley Axum of El Dorado, Donna's father.

The convention ended Sunday.

McNamara to Recommend More Aid

McNamara to Recommend More Aid

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) - Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returned from South Viet Nam today to give President Johnson a first-hand report on how the war is going against Communist guerrillas there.

McNamara told reporters at Andrews Air Force Base that during his swing through the war-torn country "I did not meet a single responsible official who doesn't believe that if a proper effort is made" victory can be obtained.

He added, though, that "the path to victory may be hard."

The defense chief, with Gen. Maxwell E. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, standing at his side, said the President had sent them to South Viet Nam for two purposes:

To appraise the political, economic and military situation. To determine what "additional actions if any" the United States should take in the struggle against Communist-dominated Viet Cong.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) - Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara reportedly will tell President Johnson that massive U. S. aid to South Viet Nam must be continued and perhaps increased if the war against Communist guerrillas is to be won.

McNamara heads home tonight after a five-day fact-finding mission on the state of the war since seizure of power by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

U.S. sources said McNamara also would express confidence in the new government. Since Khanh's bloodless coup Jan. 30, Viet Cong guerrillas have sharply stepped up their campaign with considerable success.

McNamara's view that the Red insurgency can be stamped out was reflected in his remarks to a rally of 30,000 persons Wednesday at Hue, 40 miles from the border of Communist North Viet Nam.

"We will supply now and in the future whatever economic aid, military training and military equipment you need to defeat your enemy, now and forever," McNamara said.

It was the defense secretary's strongest public commitment during his visit, and his words were loudly cheered.

Khanh and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge accompanied McNamara to Hue.

McNamara was guest of honor at a state banquet in the presidential palace in Saigon Wednesday night, but Lodge was a center of much of the talk and banter because of his victory in Tuesday's New Hampshire Republican presidential primary.

Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, the chief of state, suggested that Lodge pick up the tab for the champagne.

Everywhere he went McNamara pledged U. S. determination to help in the fight against the Communists.

McNamara also played an uncharacteristic public role, shouting Vietnamese slogans, patting babies' heads and pinching girls on the cheeks. He seemed to be taking to heart the advice American officials have given to Vietnamese leaders to court the approval of their people.

THE WEeping WIDOW MINE

By Nelson C. Nye

Copyright 1964, Nelson C. Nye

THIS STORY: Charlie has only one weapon to use against T. K. Jones. Charlie knows the location of his big strike, and Jones, who is trying legally to get the claim, doesn't. He thinks back on how he discovered the lost mine.

XIV

Yellow, it was, like the three nearer walls but, unlike those, queer figures and outlandish designs had in some far off time been daubed on it in red, possibly to conceal the presence there of plaster, and perhaps for a time it had. But now this was cracked and buckled with a great hole yawning just under the ceiling where the ore he'd fetched O'Toole had toppled to spill around the floor. That whole great wall was nothing but a fooler of plaster five or six layers deep to hide the ore stacked like cordwood from floor to roof.

Thinking back on it now as he watched the day brighten from gray to pink to fast spreading gold he felt reasonably sure what he'd got hold of was not strictly speaking, a mine but hidden booty - buried plunder, and the federal government had laws about that.

Laws - if he could find a way around them - meant no more to Charlie Medders than they did to T. K. Jones. Laws were for other people; but no body that had all his marbles was like to hand over a haul like this for any bunch of dang bureaucrats in Washington to squabble over. A man would have to be a fool to do a crazy thing like that!

Charlie, staring, cursed again. There was no sound of dogs, no sign of trackers. He had looked for Burks to have his Injuns out by this time. It didn't make sense Jones would let him get away without his greedy mind had fastened on something better; and the only thing Medders could think of was that stock baited meeting the banker had called for one o'clock.

Spurred by his apprehensions Medders got back to town well ahead of the meeting to find the streets seething in a froth of excitement. Slipping around to his room he stuffed into his pockets the rest of the cash he had got for his ore, caught up his pistol and then, by back alleys, hustled over to Fritchett's to pick up a stack of grain, just in case. There was nobody around but the old man himself, half asleep in the shade on a tipped-back chair with his hat pulled over his face against flies.

"Well," he said, with a sour look at Charlie, "I reckon you are off to join the stampede."

"What stampede?"

"Mean you ain't heard about them Injuns? Three different Papagos come in this mornin' with pieces of rock that was near pure silver. Whole town's gone loco! All the bar and saddle tramps has took out for the mission with just about everything they could steal, beg or borrow. Talk about commotion!"

Medders, grinning, said, "Musta been some of the stuff I pitched away."

"I guess it must've," Fritchett said dryly. Then his swung about stare became sharply probing. "Didn't I hear you'd made some kinda strike?"

Medders sniffed. "What's the chances of prying you loose of a sack of that grain you got stacked yonder?"

"Cash or credit?"

"Didn't figure my credit was good around here."

"It ain't," Fritchett said, not bothering to get up. But he mightily near tipped over his chair when Medders tossed a gold piece into his lap. Eyeing it askance he came onto his feet. "One be enough?"

"One's plenty," Charlie grinned, "an' you kin keep the change."

The old man insisted on helping him load; but the story was different when he got to Sol Warner's adobe-fronted mercantile. The place looked like a cyclone had hit it. "No, you can not!" Warner snapped. "Lookit them shelves - body'd think I been host to a convention of locusts! Picks, shovels, blatin' powder - even cleaned me out of rice an' flour! Hm . . . you're in luck," the merchant grunted, peering into a limp sack - "seems I've still got a pound or two left. Beans, I mean. You fixed 't tote 'em this way?"

He reached out the sack and Medders, taking it, paid him. "Wouldn't be surprised if you run into amite of wind," Warner said, considering him

Toy Train Mistaken for Bomb

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) - Two passenger trains were delayed for two hours Monday by a toy train in a suitcase.

A porter heard ticking in luggage aboard a Seaboard Air Line Railroad train bound for Miami. Police and firemen were afraid to let a northbound train pass for fear vibration would set off a supposed bomb.

Li. Clarence T. Smith, a naval ordnance man, was called in from nearby Fort Lauderdale. The ticking suitcase was placed in a gully and covered with a tarpaulin.

Smith gingerly cut open the side of the valise belonging to Alice Goodman of Knoxville, Tenn., which had been checked through to Miami. He found the toy ticking away.

Railroad officials said Mrs. Goodman would be reimbursed.

Has No Luck Trading Mets for Cards

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

Associated Press Sports Writer

The uniform read Cardinals but you couldn't blame Roger Craig for thinking he was back with the New York Mets.

Craig made his first outing of the spring training baseball season Monday with his new club and it was the same old story—good pitching on his part but no hitting support from his teammates.

The hard-luck right-hander, traded in the off season to St. Louis from the Mets, worked the first three innings against the Detroit Tigers at Lakeland, Fla.

Roger pitched three scoreless frames, allowing no hits, but the Cards failed to get him a run. St. Louis eventually won the game, 6-2, for its third straight Grapefruit League victory.

Over the winter Craig was hopeful that a change of scenery and uniforms might improve his record and his luck. With the Mets in 1963, Craig was victimized by lack of batting punch, something the Cards have in abundance but didn't display during his three-inning stint.

The 33-year-old hurler had a dismal 5-22 record last season, including 18 straight defeats, tying a National League mark. The Mets failed to score a run for him in 10 starts, five of which were 1-0 games. Eleven times he lost by one run.

Lew Burdette followed Craig to the mound and was the winning pitcher while Bobby Shantz finished up.

Craig didn't win, but Craig lost. The losing pitcher for Detroit was rookie Pete Craig, who gave up sixth-inning home runs by Gerry Buchek and Jeff Long. Roger was taking a shower by then.

The Mets received outfielder George Altman and rookie pitcher Bill Wakefield in exchange for Craig, and Altman went on to batting rampage for New York Monday. The southern slugger lashed out three triples and drove in four runs as the Mets and Philadelphia Phils played a 9-9 tie, called by agreement after 11 innings.

Elsewhere on the citrus and cactus circuits:

Milwaukee turned in its second straight shutout, blanking Baltimore 1-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Denny Lemaster, Bob Sadowski and Bob Tiefenauer. The Yankees won their first game under Manager Yogi Berra. 5-0 whitewashing of Houston, with Bill Stafford, Rolie Sheldon, Steve Hamilton and Tom Metcalf holding the Colts to one hit. Washington nipped

K-State Is Tournament Underdog

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Kansas State is the only team in the semifinals of the NCAA basketball championship that didn't achieve a high national rating this season and Coach Tex Winter is just as happy it worked out that way.

"No, I don't complain about that," Winter said by telephone from Manhattan, Kan., today. "Let 'em have the high ratings—and the pressure that goes with it."

The others in Friday night's semifinals are UCLA, Michigan and Duke, who finished one, two, three in the final Associated Press poll. Kansas State was not ranked.

"We were No. 1 all season once," Winter recalled, "and I know the pressure that can put on you. There's enough pressure built into this thing (the NCAA championships) that we don't need any more."

"I'm glad to let 'em have the high ratings."

The year he referred to was 1959 when his Wildcats compiled a 25-2 record and finished in the No. 1 spot, only to lose to Cincinnati for the midwest regional championship.

This year the Wildcats put together a 22-5 mark in winning the Big Eight title and the Midwest Regional. They'll play John Wooden's swift, unbeaten, UCLA team, 28-0, in the nightcap Friday, Michigan, Big Ten co-champ, 22-4 plays Atlantic Coast Conference champion Duke, 25-4, in the first game.

The winners clash in the title game Saturday night, scheduled for national television coverage starting at 9 p.m. CEST.

None of the semifinalists ever has won before. Kansas State came the closest, reaching the final game before losing to Kentucky 68-58 in 1951.

UCLA is making its sixth NCAA appearance. Its highest previous appearance was fourth in 1962. Duke was third last year. Michigan hasn't been in the tourney since 1948.

Kansas City 3-2. Willie King homered.

Floyd Robinson hit a grand slam home run with two out in the ninth to give the White Sox a 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh. . . Homers by Art Shamsky and Johnny Edwards triggered Cincinnati to a 7-6 10-inning victory over Minnesota. . . ## Arkansas State Loses, Baseball

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi State pounded out a 7-0 victory over Arkansas State Monday to open its baseball season.

The Southeastern Conference Maroons collected 10 hits, while the Indians were held to one hit, a single by Glen Brassfield in the sixth.

Righthander Ken Tatum got the win, and the Indians' Jerry Hudgins went the distance in losing.

Tom East, Maroon catcher, got a home run in his three hits. Ark. State 000 000 000—0 1 1 Miss. State 201 010 03x—7 10 1 Hudgins and Webb; Tatum and East.

NFL to Feel Impact of 2 Returnees

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Halfback Paul Hornung will get a second chance to show his second effort for the Green Bay Packers.

And Alex Karras gets a crack at filling the big hole in the defensive line of the Detroit Lions that he left there last year.

Both Hornung and Karras set for betting on National Football League games, have been reinstated.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, who handed down the suspensions, lifted them Monday with a statement that emphasized that neither man had been charged with betting against his own team or not giving his best in every game.

Rozelle added that the conduct of Hornung and Karras was taken into consideration in the lifting of the suspension.

Hornung said he would start in May to get his legs back in shape for the 1964 season. The Packers, three-time Western Conference winners until last season, fell to second behind the Chicago Bears in the 1963 campaign.

Hornung's shoes never were filled satisfactorily. The former Notre Dame Golden Boy, famed for his second effort running, sharp blocking and threat as a passing halfback, also was the team's leading place kicker.

He led the league in scoring for three straight seasons and holds the scoring record.

The Lions also fell off with Karras out of action. The 250-pound tackle was the standout in what people called the league's best defensive line. The Lions never did find a replacement.

Hornung said he now weighs 221 pounds, about six pounds over his playing weight.

Karras at first was bitter about his suspension, and he balked at suggestions that he sell his interest in a Detroit bar which police said was a hangout for hoodlums. Eventually he sold, and moved his family to Clinton, Iowa.

"I don't feel like I used to feel about the suspension," he said Monday. "I'll be a real tiger out there on the field this fall."

George Wilson, the Detroit coach, said Karras was the "best defensive tackle in the league," and he'll be glad to have him back.

Vince Lombardi, coach of the Packers, said he would be happy to have Hornung back, and added he "will not be traded." There have been several rumored trades for Hornung, but Lombardi has denied all of them.

The new season will be the seventh pro campaign for Hornung, who is 28, and the sixth for Karras, who is 29.

Fiery Wilt Temper Is Liability

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain's temper could prove costly to the San Francisco Warriors.

A technical foul on the Big Dipper gave Philadelphia's Hal Greer the opportunity to sink a free throw with one second left, giving the 76ers a 111-110 victory over the Warriors Monday night at the Cow Palace.

Chamberlain had bounced the ball down in what most of the crowd thought was anger over hitting only one of two free throw attempts in the waning seconds as he knotted the score at 110-110. It turned out Wilt was angry because a teammate called time out when the club had used up all six allowable time outs.

The Philadelphia victory kept alive the St. Louis Hawks' slim hope of winning the Western Division title in the National Basketball Association.

Trailing by 1½ games, St. Louis plays host to Detroit tonight while the 49ers play Los Angeles and New York goes to Boston to face the Celtics, who already have won the Eastern Division crown.

San Francisco's magic number remains 1. If the Warriors win their finale against Philadelphia on Wednesday night, or if St. Louis loses either of its two remaining games, the Warriors become division champs for the first time since 1956 when they still called Philadelphia home.

If San Francisco loses its finale and St. Louis wins two, the clubs would tie for the division seat and meet in a one-game playoff to decide the champs.

Cuban Boxer Airs String of Grips

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"Cassius Clay's the greatest, but I'm the best," insists Luis Rodriguez, the former welterweight champion, who, by his own admission, is still the welterweight titleholder.

"I'm still unbeaten. They rob me three times, added the cocky Cuban today while discussing Friday night's bout with middleweight Holley Mims and his forthcoming June 12 title match against Emile Griffith in Las Vegas.

Coincidentally, the record book shows that Rodriguez has lost only three of 57 bouts. He first lost a 10-rounder to Griffith in Dec. 1960, then another to Curtis Cokes in Aug., 1961. Then, in March, 1963, he wrestled the 147-pound crown from Griffith, only to lose it to the New Yorker three months later.

"They call me on the phone and tell me that they need someone to fight Mims because Joey Archer is hurt," Rodriguez said. "I fight anybody, Mims Archer, Griffith."

Rodriguez, who now lives in Miami, Fla., expects to weigh about 150 for Mims, meaning the Washington, D.C. fighter will have an D.C. advantage of about eight pounds.

"I once gave away 13 pounds to Yama Bahama," Luis recalled. "I beat him. And I also beat a lot of other middleweights. Joey Giambra, Ace Armstrong, Skeeter McClure and Denny Moyer."

"I'll beat Griffith again, too," he added. "About 10:30 at night on June 12 there'll be a new welterweight champion."

Then, quickly, he tacked on, "I mean . . . I'll still be the champion."

Runback of Kick-Off Is No. 1 Play

NEW YORK (AP)—The run-

back of a kickoff may be just the start of action to most pro football fans, but National Football League coaches consider it so important they set up special teams just for this play. That's why speedsters like Abe Woodson and Gary Ballman are considered so important in the NFL.

Woodson the little San Francisco scooter won the NFL kickoff return title in 1963 for the third time, official statistics showed today, and Pittsburgh's Ballman was a close second on the basis of average distance of returns.

The league average for runbacks mostly by specialists,

Drake, New Mexico in Crucial Game

NEW YORK (AP)—Something has to give when Drake and New Mexico collide tonight in a National Invitation Tournament quarter-final test and it may be the Madison Square Garden ceiling.

The Drake and New Mexico jumping jacks, tallest of the NIT's original 12-team field, figure to do some fancy leaping in tonight's basketball doubleheader opener. Army tackles Duquesne in the nightcap, with the survivors joining New York University and Bradley in Thursday night's semifinals.

The Bulldogs-Lobos summit has the makings of an ideal match-up. Drake, from the classy Missouri Valley Conference, and New Mexico's Western Athletic Conference champions have much in common — including the tourney's strongest backboard arrays.

"We grind 'em down," Drake Coach Maurice John said last Saturday after 6-foot-4 Gene West (27 points), 6-6 McCoy McLemore (19 rebounds), 6-10 Larry Prins and Co. hurled Pitt 87-82 in a first-round game.

"They (Drake) have a big, strong club," said New Mexico pilot Bob King, an Iowa native and one-time Drake graduate student, after watching the Bulldogs outscore Pitt. "But we should be able to rebound with them."

The Lobos, in fact, can rebound with anybody. Utah was the only regular season foe to beat New Mexico off the boards and the Lobos buried the Utes under a 52-18 rebounding bulge in a return meeting.

Ira (The Large) Harge, a 6-8 pivotman whom WAC coaches have compared favorably with Bill Russell, is the Lobos' leader. Harge heads up a starting five whose average height of 6-5 is an inch shorter than Drake's.

Both clubs are defense minded and both work off a deliberate offensive pattern. The Lobos led the nation defensively, allowing opponents an average of 56 points per game. Drake's average yard was 61.

The second game matches a rugged, aggressive Army team, 64-62 surprise victor over St. Bonaventure last Saturday, against a swift Duquesne club which revolves around backcourt snipers Willie Somerset (24.7 average) and Ron Willard (16).

Somerset, a 5-10 speedball, has recovered from an ankle injury was a whopping 23.4 yards.

Woodson, who set a couple of league records in 1962 by returning 37 kickoffs 1,157 yards, didn't reach those figures. But his 29 returns for 935 yards topped his average to 32.2 yards. Ballman's average in second was 31.7.

Woodson scored three touchdowns on kickoff returns, one of 103 yards—no mean feat for an unsuccessful team. Tim Brown of the Philadelphia Eagles, the only other player to run back a kickoff 100 yards last season, edged Woodson in total yardage 945-935. Brown and Bill Butler of Minnesota each returned 33 kicks.

Rotz Rides 3 Winners in Day

NEW YORK (AP)—Jockey Johnny Rotz went off swinging Monday in the contest for riding honors in New York when he booted home three winners on the opening program at Aqueduct.

Rotz scored with Tri-Quest at $8.30 in the second race, Foreign Land at $7.00 in the third and Cactus Kid at $13.80 in the ninth.

Aaron Says .350 Batter Is Bye-Bye

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Henry Aaron, who owns the highest lifetime batting average of any currently active major leaguer, believes baseball has seen the last of the .350 hitters.

"I just don't see how anybody can hit for that high an average any more, with the kind of pitching we've got to hit against today," said the Milwaukee slugger. "When I broke in with the Braves 11 years ago, you were practically certain that one or two guys would hit .350 or .360. Those days are gone."

The 30-year-old Aaron, generally regarded as the best hitter in baseball, owns a .320 average. He batted .355 just five years ago, a figure that gave him one of his two batting titles.

"Today's pitchers are better than any I've seen since I came up to the big leagues. Back in 1954 and '55, a club had one, maybe two outstanding pitchers. After you got by them, you usually had one or two easy ones in every series."

"Now, every club has at least three top flyball starters. As if that's not enough, they reach into the bullpen and throw a pitcher at you who is just as tough, if not tougher."

The sweet-swinging right-handed hitter, whose .319 figure last year barely missed winning the National League batting crown, cited the Houston Colts as an example.

"This club finished ninth," he said. "But it had three outstanding pitchers in Ken Johnson, Dick Farrell and Bob Bruce. And that guy in the bullpen (Hal Woodeshick) is no slouch, either. That's a tipoff on what kind of pitching to expect in this league."
